Gentlemen:

This letter refers to your editorial of September 27th in which you say that it seems to you that the House Ethics Committee is out of order to get Daniel Schorr to talk about who gave him the C.I.A. report that he made available to the Village Voice.

This letter is to advise you that the breadwinners of America are not going to tolerate treason much longer. We are in a defacto war and have been for 60 years. Our military budget should tell you this. The breadwinners of America who pay for this budget as well as all the other expenses are sick and tired of "giving aid and comfort to the enemies of the United States" which practice the United States Constitution defines as treason.

There is no greater crime than treason. The United States or any other sovereign state can not exist where treason becomes widespread. It is the duty of Congress to determine treason. Our Constitution provides this. If this Congress and this Senate does not recognize treason, you can be very, very sure that the breadwinners of America are going to clean the House and sanitize the Senate and get some men in Washington who will not give aid and comfort to the enemies of the United States and the enemies of civilization.

If some man in the armed forces secretly gave classified information to an enemy agent and was caught in the act, I feel certain that he would be punished.

It has long been the practice to leak information to the press which broadcasts this to the world. It has not been considered treason when the information was classified. Congress, the Senate, the Judiciary and the legal profession generally has not considered this treason. This has been the worst kind of malpractice, and the breadwinners of America have been on a treadmill trying to keep America strong while traitors bleed America white. The greatest treason conceivable was the Chiefs of Staff being overruled in making the Vietnam war a blitz and instead being forced to fight a gradual, no-win war so the traitors that infest our fair country could bleed us white. The news media cooperated in the cover-up of all this and will receive credit where credit is due.

Sincerely,

[redacted]
